

The Newsmagazine Foodservice Professionals Read

Balti-MORE

Better than Breakfast at Tiffany's

by Dara Bunjon

The Immeasurables: Victoria Coleman and Yanna Foster, Ronnie Brooks (not pictured)

Immeasurable Chicken and Waffles got its name from the owners' gospel singing group The Immeasurables. If you are lucky and all three gals are there when you dine, you might get a live performance. The menu is diverse but you don't want to miss the catfish platter and chicken and waffles. When you look around the cavernous restaurant, you will spot a poster of Audrey Hepburn as Holly Golightly from Breakfast at Tiffany's. There is juxtaposition here but I'm thinking the poster is more a good luck charm for these gals, breakfast being the key word.

The Immeasurables are Victoria Coleman, Yanna Foster and Ronnie Brooks.

Immeasurable Chicken and Waffles

1700 W. Pratt Street, Baltimore, Md.

410-483-8707

www.immeasurablecw.com

Dara Does It services include Public Relations, Media Services, Freelance Writing, Marketing, Special Events, Sales and Product Development. Contact Dara at 410-486-0339, info@dara-does-it.com or visit on the Web at www.dara-does-it.com

